Advanced Biofuels USA's Joanne Ivancic Recognized as One of Top 100 People in the Advanced Bioeconomy by Biofuels Digest

For Immediate Release February 11, 2016—Frederick, MD Readers and editors of the international online publication, Biofuels Digest, for the sixth consecutive year, recognized Advanced Biofuels USA executive director Joanne Ivancic as one of the Top 100 People in the Advanced Bioeconomy.

“Recognition by the readers and editors of Biofuels Digest, “the world's most-widely read biofuels daily” motivates all of us who volunteer at Advanced Biofuels USA to continue our efforts to transition the world to a sustainable, renewable future,” said Ivancic. “It acknowledges the work done by all the volunteers who comprise the organization and without whom nothing would be achieved. My thanks to all who work so hard to make this possible and to those who voted to give the organization this honor.”

Advanced Biofuels USA, a nonprofit educational organization, advocates for the adoption of advanced biofuels as an energy security, economic development, military flexibility and climate change mitigation solution. Technology neutral and feedstock agnostic, the organization helps clarify details of controversial issues, provides information about job opportunities, helps teachers and students prepare educational materials in science, math and social lessons related to energy security, economic development and environmental sustainability challenges. The website, www.AdvancedBiofuelsUSA.org, serves a world-wide audience as a free library of more than 15,000 posts with information helping investors, researchers, producers, legislators, opinion-leaders and consumers understand “from seed to wheel” biofuels and related biomaterials.
